ANOTHER FALSE PROPHET.

A Negro Telling People That Winston is to be Destroyed.

Winston Sentinel.

The Sentinel is told that a colored man is going around in the northern part of the city telling illiterate people that Winston is to be destroyed on Thursday next—claiming that the Lord has told him so and advised him to notify the people. A number of citizens are said to be alarmed over the report. This reminds us of a "false prophet" who appeared in Asheville and other places a few years ago and succeeded in getting the people to give their property to him. The "prophet" disposed of the gifts and skipped before the time arrived for the place to be destroyed.

Building a Town.

Weekly News.

Lenoir will soon have a brand new suburb. The ridge south west of town near the cotton mill site is alive with the ring of of the mason's trowell and the carpenter's saw and hammer. There are about fifteen houses in course of construction, most of which will be used by the operatives of the cotton mill. Mr. Moore, with coat off, is pushing things with a vim. The foundation for the mill will soon be ready for the brick.

DESIGNS FOR SAMPSON MEDAL.

SHOULD BE ENGRAVEN WITH LONG DISTANCE PHONE.

Sampson Crushed Cervera's Fleet by the "Absent Treatment" Method—Several Plans for the Medal are Suggested.

Washington Post.

Perhaps we should say the Santiago medal; but what of that? Is not Sampson Santiago, and vice versa?' Decidedly, we shall adhere to our original designation. It is the Sampson medal, for true. And apropos of this great artistic and historic work, we have a burning message from an estimable fellow-citizen who has given the subject much deep thought, evolving various more or less attractive theories:

"I have viewed with great apprehension the labors of the medal committee of the navy for fear the truths of history might not be fully emblazoned for the benefit of coming ages, but had trusted that you, as a publicist, would set them right. You have moved in the right direction, and I may say you have 'done noble.'

"But you have not considered the medal in all its phases. As a result of deep study and research I have evolved the exact thing. The face should contain 'the Matanzas mule' in the agony of death. This would recall to the American people both the admiral and his victory, as well as having the jaw bone, the ancient family weapon, in supporting distance; it would be what might be called multum in parvo, which is important when you only have a medal upon which to record such a multitude of events.

"The legend might well be 'Fourth of July' in circular form at the top, and 'I done it all' vis-a-vis.

"In tender regard for the admiral's modesty, the reverse of the medal should be blank, to recall to the country his eminent services at Santiago, but if this could be overcome, a beautiful $ might be engraven in token of his well-merited prize money, encircled with the words, 'A nation's gratitude to her Absentee,' 'Court Claim Reports, Vol. xxxv,' or a long-distance telephone, that would illustrate at once how true naval genius can instantly work modern scientific development into naval warfare; encircled above should be—

''Tis distance lends enchantment to the view,
And fills our pockets with the money, too.'

and on a rising scroll, en-bas, 'Reportibus Casualtibus.' This would free the medal from any suspicion of its being allegorical and preserve the truth of history in all its pristine vigor."

There is stuff both ingenious and profound—food for the liveliest reflection. There is enough of it to inspire the creation of a dozen medals and the opportunity to take your choice without paying a cent of money. We are free to confess that still further thoughts have at times occurred to us. Why not, for example, a life-like representation of the Merrimac on the reverse? There would be a certain subtlety in this, for the sinking of the Merrimac was Sampson's own idea. If it had been done well, instead of clumsily, the Spanish fleet could not have left Santiago harbor on July 3, 1898, or for a long time afterward. As it was a bungle, however, and Cervera did not go out, what more appropriate that that Sampson should have been absent from the engagement he had tried so hard to make impossible? Certainly there is much cause for thought in this idea of Sampson and the Merrimac.

Again, since we must have Sampson to begin with, and the only remaining question relates to the device upon the other side, why would it not be a happy expedient to embellish the reverse of the medal with some symbol of the cult now familiarly known as "mental healing?" There is a philosophy most attractive to the enlightened mind, and one of its chief features has received in Sampson's Santiago victory an unanswerable illustration. We refer to the feature termed "absent treatment." No one can deny that Sampson crushed Cervera's fleet, if he had anything to do with the episode at all, by absent treatment. He was, notoriously not upon the scene in person. His flagship was not within sig-

THE TREASURE VAULT PLOT.

DETECTIVES STILL AT WORK ON THE GOLD BARS MYSTERY.

Suspicious Actions of Two Men Who are Believed to be the Principals in Attempt to Steal Shipment of Gold.

New York.—Since the arrival here a few days ago of Arthur Carl, chief of police of Breman, Germany, on the steamship Lahn, some inside information concerning the mysterious gold bar robbery which occurred last April aboard the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse has leaked out.

Thus far but one arrest has been made in connection with the crime, but the prisoner, Theodore Magers, the bedroom steward, is believed to have been only a tool of shrewd men who planned to reap a large quantity of yellow bullion by the plundering of the treasure vault aboard the liner. Magers, who got the reward for finding the stolen gold, is locked up in Germany.

The North-German Lloyd officials when the robbery was reported offered a reward of $2,000 for the missing gold bars, and three days after the vessel reached Bremen, Magers, claimed that while cleaning the woodwork in one of the second cabin passageways he found the bullion hidden on a protruding cornice back of some steam pipes. The reward was paid to Magers.

According to the story now told, Magers left the ship, saying that he was going to have a good time with his sweetheart who lives in Bremen. He did not return to the Kaiser der Grosse before she started back for New York, but a week or so afterwards he put in his appearance at the Bremen pier in a deplorable condition. He explained that while on the way to see his sweetheart he fell in with a man who had been a second cabin passenger on the Wilhelm der Grosse, and that the latter hypnotized and robbed him of the reward money. He wandered about for ten days with the stranger, whose name he professed not to know, and one day broke the hypnotic spell by jumping into the water at Amsterdam, Holland, to which city they had traveled. He was rescued, and being without funds, had to work his way back to Bremen as best he could.

The detectives suspecting that the place where Magers said he had found the gold bars was not their hiding place again questioned the bed room steward and as he made conflicting statements and damaging admissions, he was arrested on suspicion.

Before Magers was arrested, the French detectives got information about two strange men, believed to be Americans, who had for a couple of days chartered a small boat and in the craft loitered about the entrance to Cherbourg harbor. They were suspected to be in the conspiracy to steal the gold aboard the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse and asked about the route of that vessel when it arrived from America to land her Cherbourg passengers, saying that they wanted to intercept the vessel and get a message from a friends on board who were bound for Germany. They explained also that it had been arranged that a message would be dropped before the alarm about the robbery in the steamship was raised, but they have since been traced back to the United States via Southampton.

Some of the best Berlin detectives have been traveling on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse as saloon and second cabin passengers, seeking information about the mysterious gold robbery, and they are expected back on that vessel when she arrives here tomorrow.

RUSSIA TAKES HER REVENGE

RAISES THE DUTY ON AMERICAN MADE GOODS.

The Czar's Government Informs the State Department that Tariff Rates Will be Increased.

Washington, June 18.—The Russian ambassador, Count Cassini, has communicated to the State Department that in consequence of the action of the American government through a Treasury order of March 9, last, applying tarff restrictions against Russian petroleum imported into this country the Russian Minister of Finance, M. DeWitte, has issued an order, dated June 7 instant, imposing the high tariff rate of the Russian schedule on certain American products. The text of the Russian ambassador's letter as delivered to the Treasury Department is as follows:

"Washington, May 26, 1901.

"Secretary of State:

"The Federal government having by circular, dated March 9, 1901, applied article 626 of the American tariff to Russian petroleum, the imperial government has just informed me that the Minister of Finance of Russia has taken the requisite steps for the application of the advanced rates of duty to the following American products entered into Russia:

"1. White resin, or colophon, galipot brewers' pitch, article 82, and (2) bicycles, article 173, paragraph 3. This measure will go into effect two weeks from the date of its promulgation."

The present duty on articles under the first head of the resin family is 30.8 per pood of 36.112 pounds. Bicycles are now taxable at the rate of $9.26 each. The imposition of the maxium rate will advance those figures by just 30 per cent., presuming that the effect of the Russian decree is an application or article 628 of the Russian custom house regulations, which was the paragraph applied by the Russian government to American agricultural machinery and hardware in return for the requisition for the differential sugar duties upon Russian sugar.

At the Treasury Department is is stated that the imposition of a duty on petroleum was not a matter within the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, but was made mandatory by the Dingley tariff act, which directs the Secretary, in case any foreign country imposes a duty on petroleum imported from that country. As Russia collects a duty on petroleum imported from the United States this government in compliance with law imposes a duty on Russian petroleum. In no sense, it is stated, can this duty be regarded as an unjust discrimination against Russian petroleum, as that country took the initiative against the American article. Had Russia not taken this step her petroleum woud have been admitted to this country free of duty under the terms of the tariff act,

In his reply to Count Cassi's note, which was transmitted to the Treasury Department, Secretary Gage protests against the contention that the government's act was discriminating against Russia and adds: "I beg leave to submit for your consideration the question whether the measure now adopted by the imperial government is not incompatible with the rights of the United States under the existing treaty of commerce and navigation with Russia."

According to the Russian view, the duty laid against Russian petroleum is inexplicable from the fact that no Russian petroleum comes to this country. The only kind received here is said to be that mixed with Belgian parafine. It is said that the American trade in bicycles and the resins specified are quite large in Russia, so that the increased duties will bear heavily upon these branches of the American trade. As a result representations are being made in behalf of these manufactures to induce the State Department to intercede with Russia for an abatement of the high rates.

What S. S. S. Does for Children

Children are constantly exposed to all sorts of diseases. The air they breathe is filled with germs, sewer gas and dust from the filthy streets are inhaled into the lungs and taken into the blood. At the crowded school rooms and other public places they come in contact almost daily with others recovering from or in the first stages of contagious diseases. You can't quarantine against the balance of the world, and the best you can do is to keep their blood in good condition, and thus prevent or at least mitigate the disease. You have perhaps learned from observation or experience that healthy, robust children (and this means, of course, children whose blood is pure) are not nearly so liable to contract diseases peculiar to them, and when they do it is generally in a mild form. On the other hand, weak, emaciated and sickly ones seem to catch every disease that comes along. This is because their blood is lacking in all the elements necessary to sustain and build up the body. Poisons of every description accumulate in the system, because the polluted and sluggish blood is unable to perform its proper functions.

Such children need a blood purifier and tonic to give strength and vitality to their blood, and S. S. S., being a purely vegetable remedy, makes it the safest and best for the delicate constitutions of children. S. S. S. is not only a perfect blood medicine, but is pre-eminently the tonic for children; it increases their appetites and strengthens the digestion and assimilation of food. If your children have any hereditary or acquired taint in their blood, give them S. S. S. and write to our physicians for any information or advice wanted; this will cost you nothing, and will start the little weaklings on the road to recovery. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases free.

Turtle Worship.

London Express.

At a place called Kotron, on the French ivory coast, the natives believe that to eat or destroy a turtle would mean death to the guilty one or sickness among the family. The fetich men, of which there are plenty, declare that years ago a man went to sea fishing. In the night his canoe was thrown upon the beach empty. Three days afterwards a turtle came ashore at the same place with the man on his back alive and well. Since that time they have never eaten or destroyed one of that species, although they enjoy other species.

If one happens now to be washed ashore, there is a great commotion in the town. Firstly, the women sit down and start singing and beating sticks; next a small piece of white cloth (color must be white) is placed on the turtle's back. Food is then prepared and placed on the cloth, generally plantains, rice and palm oil. Then, amid a lot of more singing, dancing and antics of the fetich people, it is carried back into the sea, and goes on its way rejoicing.

Funds for Flood Victims.

Washington Post.

Citizens of North Carolina temporarily residing in Washington met at the National Hotel last night for the second time in furtherance of their project to aid the Bakersville and Mitchell County, N. C., flood sufferers. Major Moody presided, and Secretary Albert S. Brown read the minutes of the preceding meeting. Individual members of the committee appointed at the preceeding meeting to solicit contributions for the benefit of the impoverished and homeless families made reports of their efforts, and added about $50 to the sum raised at the former meeting.

It was decided to appoint general solicitor of contributions, and Mr. Jno. Shultz, of Winston-Salem, who is connected with the office of the District recorder of deeds, was chosen. He is to be paid his expenses, and is to make a report at a meeting to be held at the National Hotel next Saturday night.

Be Careful With Cigarettes.

Durham Sun.

Do not throw cigarette stumps from second story windows. A young lady was walking along Main street a few days ago when some one tossed the end of a lighted cigarette from a window and it lodged on her hat. The hat was trimmed with some diaphanous material which ignited. The hat was spoiled and there might have been a serious accident had not a friend discovered it in time. As luck would have it it was not her best hat that went up in smoke.

Found a Barrel of Money.

Anderson Intelligencer.

In tearing off the roof of an old farmhouse near Eldora, Iowa, last week, Marvin Finster found a barrel of money and to his astonishment was almost buried by the rain of silver dollars. It is believed that some old miser at an early date hid the money, as the dates on the coins or some of them are quite old.

WINE OF CARDUI

A SURE MEDICINE.

HANDSOM, VA., Dec. 31.

I have been suffering from female weakness for four years, and have taken many medicines, but Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught have done more for me than anything else.

MRS. CAROLINE EVANS.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

It is a mistake to take any and every kind of medicine when you are sick. There is danger in it. Most of the so-called cures for "female weakness" do nothing more than deaden the pain temporarily, and when the effect wears away the patient is weaker and sicker than before. It is never wise to take chances. You have only one life, and that is dear and precious. If you have any pain, ache, disorder or weakness in the feminine organs, nothing will help you like Wine of Cardui. It helps do away with morning sickness during the early stages of pregnancy, and modifies the pains of childbirth; recovery is rapid and future health is assured. The Wine is purely vegetable, being made of herbs whose medicinal properties act directly upon the organs of womanhood. It is a long-tried remedy, and has many years of success behind it. It is sure. Why take a chance medicine when you can get a sure medicine?

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 19.

Durham Sun:

A woman 103 years old is doing her own house work in an eastern city. This by way of encouragement for those ladies who have these occasional troubles with their servants. It is difficult to tell which is the more remarkable, that a woman should attain that age, or that having attained it she should do her own housework.

THE SECRET OF HER SUCCESS.

George Ade, who writes syndicated articles which he sells to the Sunday papers and calls "Modern Fables," is a nail head hitter. The articles are copyrighted, but from last Sunday's batch we extract this gem, which will give points to the Greensboro girls:

In a shady Street there dwelt two Maidens who had their Traps set and baited. "Come on,Boys," is what it said over the Door. They yere at the Age when they live on Caramels and Excitement. All respectable Males who could talk bank and who kept their Hair comboned were welcome, and the more the merrier.

One of the Girls was a grand little Piece of Work and she had a slew of uppetyup Accomplishments, but for some reason her Tunstile did not check as many visitors as that of her Chum across the Way. The other Girl might not have copped off many Prizes at a Beauty Contest, and it had been remarked that her Piano-Playing was Fierce, and yet she caught a majority of the Callers.

One Day as two friends were chatting, the one who had the Looks put up a kind of Whimper.

"Why, Oh, why is it," she asked, "that you continue to stand Ace High with a lot of the Boys who seem to have passed me up? I always used them right, so why do they take the other side of the Street? I know that I am counted more of a Beauty than you; my Musical Education cost twice as much, and I have got you sewed up in a Sack when it comes to Correct English, yet you draw the Crowds. Where do I make my Fall-Down?"

"Dearie, I hate to let any one else in on a Snap, but I suppose I must," replied her Companion, "I will admit that as a Grammarian you are a Peach-amaroot, but do you ever stop to consider the topics that you spring on Your Young Men? Huh? Why, you sit in front of them and you tell them what a bother it is to shop all afternoon, and what Girls you saw down town and what a Time our Mamma has been having about a Cook, and how Grace said something that just made the other Girls shriek. For a whole Evening you Blate about your own affairs. Of course, Common Politeness requires the gentleman to throw on the Fixed Smile and pretend to to Follow you, but he is Bored. No Man cares much for what she said and then what you said to her. You never can win a Tome by sitting around and talking about yourself and your Girl Friends."

"And how do you manage it?" asked the other:

"Oh, I suppose I don't know a Thing about the Male Sex, do I? asked the Popular One with Squint. "From the Minute that any Charley-Boy shows up at my Work-Shop, talk about Him and nothing else. I make him tell me about his Clothes and how he has his Room fixed up. I repeat all that I ever heard any of the Girls say about him. If I can't recall a good Philopena, I fake one. Anything to keep him Warmed Up. I throw the Lime-Light on him all Evening. He has the Center of Stage and makes all the Hits and gets all the Flowers. I am simply present to feed him his Cues and demand Encores. Sometimes it is hard work to Boost all Evening, but I seldom fail to land him. When he gets up to go at Eleven o'clock, he is thrown out in front like a Pouter Pigeon. Naturally, he thinks I am just about the Main Lady of the whole Works, and he is back to see me again next Evening."

"But we are not Orientals," said the Good-Looker, proudly. "If there is to be any Flattering or Incense-Burning let the Men do it. I do not believe that Modern Woman should put Man on a Pedestal."

"Some Day I will single out one and marry him," said her Friend, in a confidential Whisper. "And when I do, he won't stay up on any Pedestal more than Twenty Minutes. You know me."

"I began to Tumble," said the other, thoughtfully. "I think I can find use for yor little Pointer."

NEW PARTY FOR BRYAN.

Steps are Being Taken for One to be Organized.

Kansas City, Mo., June 18.—Definite steps toward the organization of a new "third party," which is proposed to embrace Missouri and to form the nucleus for a national growth were taken today in Kansas City at a conference of members of the Populist State committee and a few Silver Republicans. The movement is said to have the expressed sympathy for, if not the avowed support of W. J. Bryan, who, it is further hinted, is to be the new party's candidate for President in 1904.

Lee Meriwether, of St. Louis, and 22 other leaders in the public ownership party of St. Louis, arrived in Kansas City during the morning, after having spent the whole of yesterday in consultation with Mr. Bryan at Lincoln. They are guarded in statements concering Mr. Bryan, but say if the latter does not support the present movement he is, at any rate, in sympathy with its purpose. Today's conference was secret. It will be continued tomorrow and end with a public gathering when the result of the meeting will be embodied in an address.

The meeting was first suggested by Mr. Cook, in a circular letter asking a conference with the Silver Republicans and the Public Ownership party leaders. In response to this, Lee Meriwether issued a call for the meeting today to the men of his party and J. W. Foster, of St. Joseph, issued a similar call to the silver Republicans.The conference was to incude middle-of-the-road Populists and all Democrats and Republicans who might sympathize with the reform government.

Woman Charged With Murder

Tampa. Fla., June 18.—Sheriff Leslie has arrived here with Miss Fannie Kilgore, daughter of Hon. W. C. G. Kilgore, county commissioners of Sumpter county as a prisoner. She is a comely young woman of education and good social position. Her arrest was caused by the death of Mrs. Emma Hatfield, wife of Eugene Hatfield, at 400 Whiting street, this city. The proceedings were taken against Miss Kilgore by Jack Bellamy, a brother of Mrs. Hatfield.

The case is summed up in this manner: Some time ago Miss Kilgore came here from Wildwood to accept employment. She went to board at the Hatfield residence. On Saturday morning, June 8, Mrs. Hatfield, who was in a delicate condition, found a note in Miss Kilgore's room intended for her husband. She accused Miss Kilgore of writing the note and reprimanded her for doing so. Words followed and it is alleged that the young woman made a furious assault upon Mrs. Hatfield, who became critically ill and died Sunday. The arrest has created a tremendous sensation here and throughout the State where the young defendant is known.

No Special Session

News and Observer.

Governor Aycock announces that he will not call a special session of the Legislature. This announcement is made because of the resolutions of the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce, calling upon him to do so, in order that a new revenue act can be passed, as that body disapproves of the one passed by the Legislature of 1901.

Governor Aycock has received a copy of the resolutions passed at Fayetteville, and today will direct a reply to the Chamber of Commerce of that city, setting forth the reasons why he declines to call a special session of the Legislature.

S'SH SLEEP AT LAST

LAXAKOLA DOES IT

NO ONE BUT A MOTHER can appreciate the benefit that sound refreshing sleep gives to an ailing, teething, feverish, colicky, fretty infant.

Almost distracted by its constant crying, and worn out with weary, anxious care and watching, she tries everything possible to obtain even relief for the little sufferer.

With what comfort and delight she sees her little one drop off into a deep peaceful health-giving slumber, after its little clogged bowels are cleared of their poisonous burden by a single dose of Laxakola, the great tonic laxative and mother's remedy.

Laxakola is a pure, gentle and painless liquid laxative, and contains valuable tonic properties which not only act upon the bowels, but tone up the entire system and purify the blood. A few drops can be given with safety to very young babies, which will often relieve colic by expelling the wind and gas that cause it. Great relief is experienced when administered to young children suffering from diarrhœa, accompanied with white or green evacuations, as it neutralizes the acidity of the bowels and carries out the cause of the fermentation. LAXAKOLA will aid digestion, relieve restlessness, assist nature, and induce sleep. For constipation, simple fevers, coated tongue, or any infantile troubles arising from a disordered condition of the stomach it is invaluable.

Laxakola, the great tonic laxative, is not only the most efficient of family remedies, but the most economical, because it combines two medicines, viz.: laxative and tonic, and at one price. No other remedy gives so much for the money. At druggists, 25c. and 50c., or send for free sample to THE LAXAKOLA CO., 132 Nassau Street, N. Y., or 356 Dearborn Street, Chicago.

SECOND FIRE HAS ARRIVED.

PITTS & MONROE LOSE THEIR LUMBER YARD.

Loss Estimated to be $4,000, With Insurance to the Amount of $1.350—Tne Origin of the Fire Unknown.

Fires in Greensboro usually come in groups of three, and whether people are superstitious enough to believe that anything lies in the co-incidence or not, the fact remains the same, that the experience of the fire department in this city has been that if one fire occurred, within the next few days two others would also ocur. Several days ago a small fire occurred on Church street in the residence of Dr. Callum, and this morning about 2 o'clock the second of the series came in the shape of an alarm from the box at Clegg's corner. The fire was located in the workshops of Pitts & Monroe, lumber dealers, near the factory of the Greensboro Ice & Coal Company. The flames were burning fiercely when the firemen reached the scene, and before they could be checked, had burned the entire work room, and the dry house as well, burning a deal of lumber and injuring all the machinery in the shop.

But for the fact that a railway car stood between the fire and the ice factory the latter would probably have been burned. As it was, the ice factory lost one small building, and suffered some damage to implements, in all about $20.

The loss to Messrs Pitts & Monroe is not yet known, but a conservative estimate places it at not less than four thousand dollars. They had insurance on their buildings to the amount of one hundred dollars, and insurance on their stock of lumber and the machinery to the amount of $1,250.

How the fire originated is not known, but from the account of those first on the scene it must have begun in the rear of the workshop. The insurance was in companies represented here by Messrs. O. W. Carr & Son. Neither of the Greensboro Companies carried any insurance on the loss.

Several thousand feet of lumber belonging to the Greensboro Lumber Company, which was piled on their yards immediately adjoining the building burned, were burned. Their loss they estimate to be in the neighborhood of three hundred dollars, and on this lumber it so happened that they had no insurance, although the other portions of their yard is protected.

The fire was in a place difficult to be reached by the firemen, and they have received praise for the way in which it was handled.

An Open Letter to the Citizens of Greensboro.

I desire publicly to call the attention of the citizens of Greensboro to the shocking health conditions of the northern section and the suburbs of our city. By actual count, out of a population of about 375 at the Finishing Mills, one hundred and twelve have in the last two weeks been sick with chills and fever. At the Revolution and Proximity Mills the same proportion, that is, nearly one third of the population, are also victims of malarial disease. These are not suspicions, or rumors, or fears, they are facts, hard cold, startling facts, gained directly from impartial and competent eye witnesses of existing conditions. The amount of misery the represent, it is pitiable to comtemplate. Hundreds upon hundreds of men, women and children are having their constitutions undermined, their health ruined, their lives sacrificed at our very doors. They have not the means to move away. Chained by poverty to that malarial pest region, they have no alternative but to see themselves and their loved ones sicken and suffer and waste away. The grave yards fatten upon them. During the mid-summer heats, conditions will be far worse. The sickness and deaths will multiply. Already the disease is spreading into our city. An epidemic of chills and fever that will give a black eye to the reputation of our town is imminent. I make no effort to explain the origin of or locate the blame for, this shocking condition of things. I only desire that apathy and heartless in difference may not put our citizens in the position of the Priest and the Levite who "passed by on the other side." In saving our neighbor we shall save ourselves. Never was the Scripture injuction more appropriate, "whatsoever thy hand findeth, to do, do it with thy might."

EGBERT W. SMITH.

A Narrow Escape.

This morning a few minutes before the train for Raleigh pulled out, a dog crawled under one of the cars and calmly went to sleep. A lady passenger on the Winston train called the attention of the flagman to the dog, and he was awakened and made to come out. But for the lady the life of his dogship would have come to an untimely end.

DIDN'T GET THE CONTRACT

But His Figures Were Close to Those That Did Get It.

Mr. W. C. Bain is somewhat of a figurer when it comes to bidding on a large job of work. He recently bid on the two new public school buildings to be erected in Durham, and he received information yesterday afternoon that the contract had been given to a firm in Oxford. Only two bidders were considered, Mr Bain's and the successful firm, and Mr Bain's figures were just three hundred dollars above the other man, the entire amount for which the work was undertaken being $27,000. That the two bidders should be so close together on so large a job shows careful calculation

MAD DOG IN THE CITY.

One Killed on West Gaston Street Last Night.

The staid and sober portion of the city's inhabitants residing near the end of West Gaston street were alarmed last evening late by the rapid firing of a pistol in the neighborhood, and the report that a mad dog was running amuck. The dog was the property of Mr. Kirk Callum who lives on the corner of Edgeworth and West Gaston streets, and for some time had been acting in a strange manner, and yesterday afternoon Mr. Callum decided to kill it. Several shots were necessary before the animal could be despatched.

Not only ought mad dogs to be killed, but there are a great many cur dogs in the city whose presence could be dispensed with, and it would be a good deed for some one to shoot them.

TO LOCATE IN GUILFORD.

Gentlemen From Iowa Visit the City With View of Locating.

born, of Perry, Iowa, who have for some born, of Perry, Iowa, who hace for some time, been in the city prospecting with a view of purchasing farm lands and locating here, left last night on their return home. While here they were shown through the country by Mr. A. L. Rankin, of the Southern Loan & Trust Company. It is probable that these gentlemen will locate near Greensboro.

An Act of Appreciation.

Mr. F. N. Taylor, chief of the Fire Department, received this afternoon, two checks, one from the Greensboro Lumber Company for $25 and one from the Guilford Lumber Company for a similar amount, for the fire department for their service this morning. The checks were made payable to "F. N. Taylor, chief, for valuable services rendered."

Governor Aycock Here.

Governor Charles B. Aycock spent a few hours in the city this morning on his way to Wilkesboro, where he speaks tonight. Notwithstanding the fact that the Governor has been constantly on the go for some time, he appears to be in excellent health. He will speak at the Battle Ground on the Fourth of July, and a treat awaits those who will hear him.

A Pleasant Meeting.

The literary meeting of the Centenary Epworth League held last night at the residence of Mr. L. M. Clymer on Blanwood avenue was a most enjoyable occasion. In addition to the literary part of the evening, the young folks enjoyed themselves playing a number of games. Delicious refreshments were also served.

Habaes Corpus Case Postponed

Bryan and the Battle Ground.

It appears in the newspapers that Mr. Bryan has recently left the west on a visit to Virginia, as the visit will be of several weeks duration he will give us a talk at Guilford Battle Ground on the 4th of July next, if our best efforts can effect that "consummation devoutly to be desired." Governor Aycock will certainly be present and aspirants for front seats had better come early.

HOW TO BUILD SIDEWALKS.

The Way Asheboro Street Was Paved—Work in Progress on Washington Street.

Mr. Sam Browne has a contract for the putting down of sidewalks on East Washington street near the residence of Mr. J. A. Odell. The work is being well done. Your "Uncle Sam" is no novice in the art, as the sidewalk on Asheboro street will testify.

Apropos the putting down of sidewalks, it might be well to state that the sidewalk on Asheboro street was put down consecutively, and not a job here and another one there, and the consequence is that this sidewalk is now in first class condition while other sidewalks that were put down piecemeal, are sadly in need of repairs. No comment on this is necessary.

BITTEN BY A MAD-DOG.

Boy is Taken to Baltimore to Receive Pasteur Treatment.

Mr. W. A. Petree, of Mizpah, Stokes county, accompanied by his little son, Master Elbert Eaton Petree, passed through the city last night on his way to Baltimore, to have his son receive the Pasteur treatment for hydrophobia.

Just fifty days ago his son who appears to be about twelve years of age, was coming home from school, when he was attacked by a mad dog who bit him in ten different places five of them being on his arms and five on his legs. Madstones were applied to the wounds and adhered there for three days, and the places healed up. His father however, fearing that the madstone treatment was not sufficient, carried him to Baltimore for teatment in the hospital there.

A Neat Little Booklet.

A small booklet containing the announcements of the Annual Assembly and Bible Conference of Christian workers will be held in Montreat during the months of July and August has been issued. It is a neat little publication, full of information concerning Montreat, and the beauties of nature which can be witnessed from it.

At the Baptist Church.

The Children's Day exercises at the Baptist church tonight will begin at 8 o'clock. The exercises will be very enjoyable. The public is cordialiy invited to be present.

RESOLUTIONS.

God in His all-wise providence, has removed from our midst, Vernon, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee T. Blair, who clamly fell asleep in Jesus, at their home on Asheboro street, Sunday morning, June 9, 1901. Age two years and two weeks.

Resolved, That we the members of the Junior Westminster League tender to this bereaved family, our profound sympathy, in this their deep sorrow, and affectionately commend them to the covenant mercy of the loving Father, and to consolation of his grace. We humbly bow in submission to his who has called this loved one up higher.

"Our Father, who rules the world above,
Called home the child of fondest love:
Bade the death Angel quickly come
And bear the sainted spirit home.

Though in the grave the body lies
We think of him above the skies,
Where crown of life to Saints are given,
That sparkle with the gems of heaven.

Do thou, O Father, be their stay,
Who took their blue eyed boy away,
Help them to bow before thy throne
And say to thee, thy will be done."

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased and to the North Carolina Presbyterian for publication.

We do not need any more watermelons at this office. We are not a railroad company, and enough is enough.

We attended a meeting for women only last night. Our mother in law had the floor and we had the roof.

Our paper is only $1 a year, but some folks seem to think we ought to throw in a free obituary for good measure, and take it out in cabbage and green corn.

THE MAN WITH ICE.

Let fortune give the biggest slice
To the brave gentleman with ice!
A hero far above all price—
The worthy gentleman with ice!
His welcome cart the air divides
And cools it with dripping sides:
The world throngs round him in a trice
And hurrahs for the man with ice!
Ho! Conquerors, Ring and all give way!
We'll worship you some other day!
And love—get back to Paradise;
The world's won by the man with ice.

On a sweltering Sabbath, in a little church in the backwoods the perspiring minister, instead of preaching a long sermon, called the attention of the congregation to the figure on the thermometer. "Just study those figures," he said. "It ain't half as hot here as you'll find it hereafter if you don't mend your ways!"

Killed by Robbers.

Charlotte Observer.

Wilmington, June 17.—Gaston Price, a white man about 65 years of age, was assaulted and robbed some time yesterday in his store at Navassa, on the west side of the Cape Fear river, about four miles above Wilmington. He was found lying on the floor of the store early this morning in a pool of blood with his skull crushed and his face battered and bruised. A physician was summoned, who after examination, had the injured man removed to the city hospital in Wilmington, where he died in the afternoon, never having regained consciousness. Robbery is supposed to have been the motive.

A chest in which Mr. Price was known to keep his money was found broken up and empty money boxes lying on the floor beside a bloody axe and a broom handle. Mr. Price sold a piece of property in this city a few weeks ago for which he received $400, but whether his money was found by his assailants is not known. There is no clue.

naling distance until some time after the engagement had practically ended. But he won the victory—the Navy Department swears it by the great horn spoon, to say nothing of the chin whiskers of the prophet—his speaking features are to decorate one side of the Santiago medal, and what else would you have? This is either a case of "absent treatment," or it is a humbug and a fraud from beginning to end.

But, of course, it is not a humbug. The Sampson medal has come to stay. We have to decide only what shall go dos-a-dos with Sampson on the decoration. We have offered several suggestions, all of them rich enough for even a more glorious occasion. Choose any and you get a prize.

Eight Hours for Servant Girls.

Chicago.—Union labor is to take a hand in the servant girl problem in Chicago. It has been decided by the local branch of the Woman's International Labor League to start a vigorous crusade for the organization of thousands of girls whose work is in the homes of Chicago. The announcement of the league's decision was made on the floor of the Chicago Federation of Labor by Miss Sophia Becker, of the Shoe Stitchers' Union, and was received with applause by the delegates to the assembly.

Miss Becker told the delegates in the federation that committees have been appointed, and that the work of organizing the union would begin at once.

The union will announce a regular scale of wages. An eight hour day will be declared in vogue, with extra pay for holidays and overtime. The number of afternoons which each servant girl may have for recreation each will also be stipulated.

It is estimated that there are more than 60,000 girls and women in Chicago willing and eligible for this new movement. They will work in sympathy with affiliated organizations of female labor.

Love is the only universally interesting thing in the world. It is what all youth looks forward to and all ages look back at.

A man's love can be beckoned, but not commanded; a woman's love can be commanded but not beckoned.

"AS TO COALING STATIONS."

A Unique Contention that Will Not Meet With Very Wide Approval.

Chicago Chronicle.

It would be no violation of the Monroe doctrine intelligently interpreted if Germany should buy the Venezuelan island of Marguerita and occupy it as a coaling station and port of refuge for German vessels, either of war or commerce. There is no need of going into hysterics on the subject, as Senator Lodge did in his opening address at the Buffalo Pan-American fair.

For one nation to cede to another a coaling station is a mere sort of public hospitality. A coaling station occupied by a friendly nation along any civilized shore is not a military base which might be used for hostile operations against the country by which it is ceded or against any neighboring country. A German coaling station off the South American coast would not be a menace to both Americas nor to either.

The supposition that a coaling station which one country may own in a distant part of the world may be a possession like Gibraltar, dominating the gateway to continents and maintained for hostile purposes, is altogether erroneous. It is true that the war vessels of any power may obtain fuel, munitions, and other supplies from the storehouses and arsenal which it maintains at coaling stations, but the coaling stations are little used for that purpose.

The fuel and other supplies provided at coaling stations for the use of national vessels are used mainly for the errands of peace on which the great ship of all powers are occupied nearly all the time. A war vessel of any nation may enter a friendly port and buy everything needed on its cruise, as against any other nation.

To cede a coaling station is only to provide that a friendly power may have a little territory of its own where it may enjoy the same rights which it has in the port of any nation with which it is not at war. It is mere nuela or any other American nation to sell a coaling station to a European power does not violate the principle of the Monroe doctrine in letter nor in spirit.

The Monroe doctrine forbids the subjugation of American territory, north or south, by European powers for the maintenance of a vast military estabilhment, to create deypenedneeun tablishment, to create dependencies on our borders which would menace our safety and divide with us American supremacy.

A coaling station is nothing of the kind. It cann be tolerated with perfect safety.

New York Women May Ride Astride.

New York Herald.

Following the dashing example of Boston, and ignoring the over prudish stand taken by Brooklyn in its recent horse show, the fair equestriennes of New York and adjacent colonies of fashion are beginning to look with favor on the fashion of riding astride. They have found a leader in this method of riding in Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, Jr.

Mrs. Hitchcock, since here return to her country house at Westbury, L. I., from Aiken, S. C., where she spent part of the winter, has excited the surprise and won the admiration of her neighbors by riding astride. She is the first woman member of the Meadow Brook Hunt Club to adopt the fashion.

All the young women, when she goes dashing by on her way from her home to the club over the long roads of the country, glance enviously at her costume, and, if they happen to be riding, too, look disdainfully at their own cumbersome skirts. The polo players and the frequenters of the tennis court the other side of the clubhiuse nod approvingly as Mrs. Hitchcock goes by, and it is safe to say that before many seasons have passed she will be followed in the paths of comfort and safety by many of the most prominent women in her neighborhood.

Even the small boy of peaceful Westbury is grateful to Mrs. Hitchcock for waking up the town a little,and he refers to her with a deep affection as "the lady that rides like a man."

Mrs. Hitchcock had come up to town, the reporter of the Herald was told when he called at the Hitchcock residence at Westbury. At the city house,8 East Twenty-ninth street. Mrs. Hitchcock last evening expressed her enthusiastic approval of riding astride.

"I've done it for years in the South," she said. "I began it when I was down South shooting. It's safest, the most comfortabe, the most healthful way to ride; it's the only way to ride."

Mrs. Hitchcock disclaims any intention of undertaking the reformation of present riding methods.

"But I predict," she added, "that before long most of the women in this part of the country will adopt this method of riding. Many of them ride astride down South and abandon the practice when they come north. So far I have seen but one other woman riding stride in this part of the country.

"I believe in it so thoroughly that I am bringing up my little girls to ride that way."

Mrs. Hitchcock is not only one of the most graceful, but one of the most daring of woman riders. She follows the hunt with her husband, who is an exceptionally good horseman. She plays a fine game of polo and is a leader in all kinds of outdoor sports.

Her riding costume is not the ungraceful divided skirt favored by the Boston women who ride astride, but the regular riding coat and breeches such as is wore by men riders. Her suit is brown, and she wears either high boots or leggins.

Commanding Attention

There are several ways of getting attention.

You can attract it, draw it, plead for it, ask for it, and command it.

Which would you rather do with your printed announcement?

Everyone who makes things to sell or who does things for money, has something so say to the public.

The way that you say it is as important at least as what you say.

What you say is your part.

The way you say it is ours.

Printing that cannot be turned down, mislaid, sidetracked or overlooked is the kind we do.

It is distinguished printing—printing that not only may, but which must be seen—printing which doesn't simply ask, but which demands and commands attention.

Are not these the characteristics you want in your printing? Then come in and talk to us about the next booklet, folder, circular or other business-bringing printing thing.

Dropsy

starting in the feet or ankles comes from a weak or diseased heart—a heart that cannot keep up the circulation. The blood then settles in the lower limbs where the watery portions ooze out into surrounding tissues causing bloat and swelling. The heart must be strengthened and built up before the dropsy can be cured to stay; and the best of all heart medicines is Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

"I had palpitation, shortness of breath, pain in heart, swelling of feet and ankles, hungry spells and was confined to my bed and easy chair. A few bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure made me well."
MRS. C. OSBORNE, Clyde, O.
